Rai Bahadur Lala

Rattan Chand

O.B.E, M.L.C.

23rd Jan. 1872 - 8th Dec. 1931

One of our ancestors, he was honored with the title of the Order of the British Empire. A tea merchant, he established the green tea market in the Walled City which exists till date with his name engraved in stone.

A story goes that he was offered the title of 'Sir' which he outright refused when the British asked him if he would support General Dyer's statement of being 'confronted by a revolutionary army' in the court in regards to the Jallianwala Massacre.

He was a member of the Legislative Council and an Honorary Magistrate of the Amritsar District. He was also a founding member of Municipal Corporation of Amritsar.

Hibiscus Spa Pavilion

What use to be the cowshed and the horse stables is now the quaint and beautiful spa pavilion housing three spa chambers.

We bring together the age-old Ayurveda Therapies from Kerala. Traditional oils made of herbs, plants, weeds and more to help the body renew and recover.

We use kitchen cosmetics and plant produce to make our own fresh ingredients for our range of western therapies addressing the body as a whole as well as for shorter duration therapies giving attention to specific areas such as a back, legs etc.

All our aroma oils are home-made blends using pure essential oils playing on the physiological body.

We have devised a four way thoughtful regime that targets disturbances to help re-attain one's peace. Craft your own therapy as you know your body and mind the most.

P ~ Pressure, to release blockages & pent-up emotions that hinder the flow of life-force

A ~ Attention, for areas that tend to hold negative energy manifesting in physical forms

S ~ Speed, natural rhythm that revives a healthy blood and oxygen circulation

T ~ Technique, healing given through the thumbs, fingers and hands to reinstate wellness

Feel free to talk to us and let us know what kind of a massage you are seeking using this four way pattern. Our therapists look forward to bringing you back to your circadian rhythm and enjoying the present.

Shoots & Films

Jewelry shoots, fashion shoots, films have been done at the haveli for its unique beauty

Ranjit's SVAASA opened its doors in the year 2000 with locally employed manpower who were trained hands-on from scratch by the Mehra family during the restoration of the haveli. Some of them are with us till date.

We openly hire widows and women from nearby villages seeking a respectable stability.

We support local charities, the blind school and the animal shelter through the earnings of our SVAASA Experiences and short jobworks.

All our hires span across the country and are from a non-hospitality background.

We recruit from NGO's like Pratham who train village boys and girls with basic skills to earn a living for their family.

We appreciate dedication and skill. Our English speaking Captain in the dining was our dishwasher a few years back. One of our senior team member started as a night errand boy.
